Correction.

The word "rouge" in Senator Trammell's card in this morning paper should be role.

Personal.

We had a call at THE CONSTITUTION office yesterday from Mr. A. R. Ricks, editor of the Knoxville Chronicle.

Cotton.

The cotton coming into market has improved in grade, and the market is steady and active at 17¾c on the streets and 17¼c in warehouse.

☞ The Labor Reformers and Prohibitory people in Massachusetts are mad at Butler for going back on them and not running independently. They have nominated candidates for Governor.

Dr. Sid.

The performances of this gentleman will take place to-night at DeGive's, and a great deal of amusement is expected from things that have leaked out. The gift system will be put in play.

Tobacco.

There are 1,023 tobacco factories in the Union, and their bonds sum up $8,244,000. New England has 30; Massachusetts, 22; North Carolina has 205, the largest number for bonds, $1,160,000. Virginia has 185; bonds, $2,894,900. Missouri has 102; New York, 93; Ohio, 57; Illinois, 46; Pennsylvania, 45.

Parties in Macon are at work building a steam Yacht, which they hope to have completed in time for the State Fair.—Daily Citizen.

A band of Gypsies are encamped just outside of Augusta. Only 463 voters have as yet registered in Augusta.—Augusta Constitutionalist.

A party of seventeen surveyors have arrived in Columbus, who will continue at once from Columbus a survey of the Chattahoochee river.—Columbus Enquirer.

Augusta has a colored bushwhacker, in one Paul Jones, who waylaid another colored man Nelson Evans, and discharged his gun, heavily loaded, at him, wounding Evans severely in the head and neck. Augusta has a drunken white woman. The ladies of St. Patrick's Church, of Augusta, intend having a fair in December.—Chronicle and Sentinel.

The people of Jones county do not find their Swedish laborers as profitable as at first anticipated. They cannot stand the hot sun. Our informant states that this year he has tried the native white, the Swede and the African. The latter he found decidedly the most profitable. Many of the Swedes have left their employers.—Central Georgian.

In selecting a piece of poetry for THE CONSTITUTION a day or two since, our choice was "A State Road Chorus," taken from the Savannah News. Failing to credit it to that paper was entirely an oversight, and to show our high appreciation of the poet of the News, we recommend to the public a later production, entitled, "Affairs in Georgia," "A New Version of a New Song."

Mrs. J. W. Harris, of Cartersville, entered some thirty-odd articles of domestic and rustic housewifery at the late Fair at the above place, and carried off thirteen premiums. Improvements still going on in Cartersville. The sound of hammer and trowel are constantly heard. Cotton coming into town briskly. At the tournament at the Fair at Burtow, Mr. John Vaughan, of Pine Log, was the winner of the first prize, and Captain W. H. Stiles the second.—Cartersville Express.

The City Council of Milledgeville, by ordinance and record, has tendered to the State of Georgia, a farm of five hundred acres, for the Agricultural and Military College, to be located anywhere the State may choose on the city common. It is worth $25,000. On the same day the trustees of the Milledgeville Presbyterian Church High School, made a deed of gift to the State of Georgia, for the same trust, of all the old Oglethorpe College buildings, sixteen in number, and fifty acres, part of their land.—Milledgeville Recorder.

On Monday the warehouse books of Columbus footed up 349 bales, the heaviest of any day this season. There should be some large receipt days, as Columbus is 8506 bales behind last year. Captain Fry, of the steamer, C. D. Fry, tells us that the railroad from Quincy is completed to within some eight miles of Chattahoochee, and the track is being laid at the rate of half a mile per day. The funeral of Captain J. L. Morton, a former Mayor of Columbus, who recently died in Savannah, was a large and imposing one.—Columbus Sun.

The Georgia Historical Society and the Savannah Library Association have been amalgamated. The profits accruing upon each share of the People's Mutual Loan Association of Savannah amount to more than one hundred per cent. Wilkins and McKenzie enter Justice A. E. Jones' office in Savannah, assault the Justice, one with a knife, and seriously cut him on the top of the head before they were arrested. The Southern and Atlantic Telegraph Company have completed all of its arrangements in Savannah, and is now prepared to send and receive messages. The offices in Savannah on Monday passed off quietly up to 10 o'clock.—Colonel Screven and the whole Democratic ticket triumphant. It was the largest vote ever polled in the city at a city election. Colonel Screven's majority reaches perhaps two thousand votes. After 10 o'clock there were some little disturbances, the day however passed off as well as could have been expected. Colonel Screven received a number of colored votes.—Savannah News.

The Fair of the Monroe Agricultural Association was in every sense a success, and cannot prove otherwise than beneficial to the agricultural interests of the county. Dr. James S. Lawton, of Forsyth, has been suffering for a week or ten days from the effects of a fall which resulted in dislocating his right arm, with other minor injuries. The fall term of Pike Superior Court adjourned on Friday. The dockets were light, and the cases of minor importance. The cloudless skies and genial sunshine of the past few days has materially improved the cotton prospect. Our planters are making every available effort to gather the crop as fast as it opens. The receipts at the warehouses indicate that the bulk of the crop will be gathered within the next twenty days. Forsyth needs a market house. There were over one hundred arrivals at Greer's Hotel last Saturday. The spire on the Methodist Church in Forsyth has been completed and towers grandly above every surrounding object. A fine horse of Mr. T. Y. Brent, was recently killed by an infuriated bull.—Monroe Advertiser.

Political Items.

Beecher calls the revenue service a "vast quicksand."

Tom Murphy is called the Warwick of New York Radicalism.

Southern Bourbons are now styled, "The men who historically stick in the mud."

Judge E. D. Smith has been nominated to the Supreme Court of New York.

The guillotine is at work among the office holders in Brooklyn who favor Greeley.

Mr. John Quincy Adams has been requested to make an active canvass in Massachusetts.

A New Candidate.

Editors Constitution: I see several names mentioned in connection with the Presidency of the Senate, when it meets in November. I have nothing to say in disparagement of any of them, but wish to present to the public the name of a man who, in my opinion, is THE man for the position. I refer to the Hon. James R. Brown, the Senator elect from the 29th Senatorial District. Col. Brown is a lawyer of distinguished ability, a citizen of irreproachable character, and a Democrat of unflinching integrity to the party. He has never, in a single instance, wavered or swerved from the path of Democratic orthodoxy.

When his brother, Governor Brown, "accepted the situation" and went off into the Republican party, Col. Brown stood by the old faith, as firm as adamant, and refused to be controlled or influenced by his brother.

He is a man of fine ability, clear head, and warm heart. No one is more popular with the old iron-ribbed Democracy of the Cherokee county. He was elected to his present position by an overwhelming majority over a popular opponent. His knowledge of parliamentary law and his promptness and decision of character eminently qualify, if they do not entitle him, to the position.

In addition to this, I think the Senate should be ready to do Cherokee, Georgia, some measure of justice. Never, since the country was settled, has Cherokee, Georgia, been honored, by the election of any one of her citizens, of any party, to preside over the Senate. I trust Col. Brown will be the unanimous nominee of the Democratic caucus.

AN OLD TIME DEMOCRAT.

Editors Constitution: As a diversity of opinion exists among intelligent men as to the time when the election of State House officers will take place, you will please publish the following view of the subject. If any gentleman entertains a different view, I hope he will give it to the public:

Article III, section 1, paragraph 3 of the Constitution provides that the General Assembly, after the first meeting under that instrument, "shall meet annually on the second Wednesday in January, or on such other day as the General Assembly may prescribe." By an act approved 25th October, 1870, the General Assembly did prescribe that from and after its passage that body should meet on the "first Wednesday in November of each and every year," consequently, the approaching session of the General Assembly elected in 1870, meets on the "first Wednesday in November," which is the first day of the month.

By article III, section I, paragraph II, of the Constitution, "the members of the House of Representatives shall be elected for two years." The Senate is a body always in existence by reason of the terms of retiring members being filled by election in accordance with the terms of said paragraph. It follows then that the present General Assembly which convenes in November, 1871, will meet again in 1872, in the same month, because it is elected for two years. By section 1354, Irwin's Code, State House officers are to be elected "during the sitting or session which immediately precedes the beginning of the term which they are to fill." The term which the successors to the present State House officers are to be filled, begins on the 1st day January, 1873, consequently the present Legislature, at its session in November, 1872, (unless the present law be changed) will elect the next State House officers.

One hundred and ninety-five pupils were in attendance at the reopening of the Catholic Sunday School in Charleston. A colored girl in Charleston was severely burned last week by the explosion of a kerosene lamp. Two colored children, the one ten and the other thirteen, had a fight in Charleston a day or two ago. One of them threw a piece of tin at the other, which penetrated the temple of the one thrown at, and required some force to remove it. From the results of the wound she has since died.—Charleston Courier.

Shooting teal ducks near Columbia is the sensation. Cotton picking in the suburbs of Columbia is demanding labor, and cotton is being put on the market with fair alacrity. There are about one hundred buildings in process of construction in Columbia. The iron on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad has been laid nearly to the depot and construction trains have been passing over it. A colt belonging to Mr. Sheridan had the tendons of one of its legs severed by stepping on a glass bottle, he was put under the influence of chloroform and operated upon by Surgeon Darby, and is now recovering. Joseph Brennan, eldest son of the widow Brennan, of Columbia, aged about 20 years, was instantly killed on Monday by the accidental discharge of his gun.—Daily Union.

Four stock failures are announced. Fluctuations are from twenty to thirty per cent., with frequent tendency. Stock is decidedly downward.

The World's special from Chicago, dated 1:30 A. M., says, the wind is blowing a gale. The fire is apparently subdued. It has not spread since noon yesterday.

The bank vaults all appear to be in good condition. The number of dead found in the ruins up to date is forty. The ruins are not all accessible yet.

The weather is quite cool. There is intense suffering among a few thousand families on the prairies. One thousand tents were given them yesterday. Relief is coming from all quarters. The future is uncertain and general gloom prevails.

LATER.—The State has gone Republican by a reduced majority. The legislature is doubtful.

TEXAS.

GALVESTON, October 11.—The following are the net majorities as far as heard from:

First District, eight counties, Herndon, Democrat, 1,567; Second District, Connor, Democrat, re-elected by about 15,000 majority; Third District, fifteen counties, Giddings, Democrat, 622; Fourth District, twenty-nine counties, Hancock, Democrat, 3,640.

A special to the News from Austin says: Limestone county was declared under martial law and assessed $50,000 for bad behavior. Adjutant General Davidson takes charge of the military of Grimes. The vote of Limestone, Grimes, and Bell counties will be thrown out, thus making the vote between Giddings and Clark nearly equal. Clark will receive the certificate of election. State Senator Mills has been heard to say Clark shall go to Congress if there are bayonets enough in the State to send him there.

The Kimball House.

Mr. Crittenden, of the Kimball House, tells us that he means to keep up the delightful hops that have become so popular during the summer. His delightful music has been a great attraction for the guests of the hotel and our citizens. His band is a very fine one. The next hop will be on Friday night.

State Democratic Committee.

The members of the State Democratic Executive Committee are requested to meet at the office of the Chairman, in the city of Macon, on Tuesday, the 24th day of October, at 10 o'clock A. M. A full attendance is desired.

CLIFFORD ANDERSON, Chairman.

Democratic papers please copy.

Fair Paper.

We shall publish, as we did during the State Fair last year, a daily paper during the continuance of the approaching Atlanta Fair. It will be called THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION FAIR BULLETIN. Thousands of copies will be circulated free every day. Advertisements will be inserted at reasonable rates. We trust that those wishing to advertise will send their advertisements to THE CONSTITUTION Business Office at once.

Railroad from Atlanta Through Dahlonega to Knoxville.

We have always felt a deep interest in opening up Northeast Georgia with its mountains and minerals, its scenery and salubrity to the railroad world. That splendid section of our State is due this privilege. There has been a charter for a road from Atlanta through Dahlonega to Knoxville, but we believe it has expired. We hope to see the Legislature revive this charter, and not only put a rare section on the line of railroad privileges, but open up to Atlanta a new inlet for business and travel.

We shall say more of this hereafter.

Stethoscopic Views.

During the summer, while in New York, we visited the picture house of E. Anthony 501 Broadway, where we saw a perfect wilderness of charms in the way of chromos, painting, photographs, stethoscopic views, etc., etc. This is one of the finest picture establishments in the country, and does a large business South. Phillips & Crew deal largely with them.

We have received a choice selection of beautiful stethoscopic views from this house. Among them are scenes from that world-famous Yosemite Valley in California, from Switzerland; also photographs of rare statuary, and magnificient buildings.

Our Evening Edition.

Special attention is asked to the evening edition of THE CONSTITUTION. This edition will contain, daily, the very latest news from the States of Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, and South Carolina, condensed from our exchanges and otherwise obtained, all telegraphic dispatches up to 3 P. M., together with local and other items of interest, affording a large amount of important and interesting reading matter.

The times are unusually stirring. Elections are occurring in all parts of the United States, and exciting news is coming in almost hourly. Before 4 o'clock every afternoon our news-boys will be upon the streets with the afternoon CONSTITUTION.

We bespeak a generous treatment of the little news-boy. A nickel for a paper will hardly be missed by the poorest, but it may carry bread into destitute homes. The proprietors issue the papers to the boys at cost and allow them to make all the profit. We shall spare no effort to make the paper desirable.

A New Book.

FOLLE FARINE. By OUIDA. J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, Publishers. For sale by Phillips & Crew.

This is one of those bizarre fictions of the literary grain that the reader peruses with an immense deal of exciting interest, and wonders afterwards why the book was written. "Ouida" is a well known novel writer of decided genius. Her style is flashing, her thoughts burn, but her characters are out of the range of naturalness, and her incidents are exaggerated and sensational. Her books take and are read, but we cannot exactly commend their morals.

Folle Farine is a characteristic specimen of Oudia's peculiar power. This heroine, Folle Farine, is a Gypsey born vagabond, who grows up in squalor and obscurity, lives a life of fierce antaganism with the world and dies miserably. Her career is vividly drawn in strong colors. She is beautiful and defiant, goes to sin for noble sentiment, and wastes her life dramatically, but not beneficially.

The book will be read because it is interesting, but we doubt its good influence.

Coming Together.

We yesterday gave some extracts from Mr. Stephens and the New York World, showing that the Departurists and Anti-Departurists are coming to an understanding, and that party unity may be looked for. We have other evidences of this. All parties seem pleased with the New York platform, which appears to have felicitously compromised differences on this vexed question.

That ardent opponent of the New Departure, the Savannah News, says:

"The New York resolution is a very great departure in the right direction from the so-called 'New Departure,' and we hail its adoption as an omen of good, as an evidence of the return of the Democracy of the North to the true, constitutional, Jeffersonian principles of the party, and as a sure precursor of restored confidence, unity, harmony and triumph."

The Montgomery Advertiser, an equally ardent departurist, says:

"The resolution in question, therefore, rigidly and fully covers the two amendments as existing parts of the Constitution to be maintained as such, and as finalities on the subject. It will be noted that there is no arriere pensee of remonstrance or regret, and not the remotest suggestion of a reactive future looking to the old ante bellum dispensation. There is no indication of a disposition to assault these amendments on any ground whatever. The question of universal suffrage is treated as permanently settled; and the success of the Democratic party, with a consequent Democratic administration and Democratic construction of the Amendments in the Constitution "as it is," (to use Governor Hoffman's words) is presented as the only efficient means of checking the contemplated steps of the Radical party to a rapidly approaching consolidation and despotism."

Political.

Four or five of the more prominent Democratic journals of the State are still proclaiming, in column after column of matter, their loyalty to the old constitution of the United States, and utterly repudiating the amendments to it, growing out of the war. The leader of this class of journals is the Atlanta Sun, edited by Mr Alexander Stephens and it has many followers. On the other hand, there are four or five prominent Democratic journals—THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION leading—that are using all their available space to show that it is the best policy of the Democratic party to accept the new amendments of the Constitution as valid and binding parts thereof, and characterizing as suicidal folly the policy of non-acquiescence. This latter class of journals is all under the euphonious title of "New Departurists," and they, too, have their followers. So it would seem that the Democratic party of Georgia is split wide open upon the question arising out of this departure from old party landmarks; but such is not the fact. Although some of the ablest journals of the party in the State are snarling and snapping at each other about this or that infidelity to party tenets and principles, yet they all agree to harmonize when the Presidential election comes off, and will all support the Democratic nominee. Do we not state the case fairly? If so, in the name of common sense we ask, why will these editors persist in disrupting the minds of their readers and producing discord. They are really making a better fight for the Republican nominee in 1872 than the editors of that party. Mr. Stephens in almost daily pennings paragraphs that will be kept in flaming capitals at the head of Republican papers North during the next Presidential campaign, and he is drawing out from his opponents of the New Departure a vast deal of quibbling, squirming and self stultification. And what does it amount to? What come of it? What other results will follow than the perpetuation in office of the party now ruling? If we had the power we would seal the lips and stop the pens of Southern politicians for the next twelve months.

The above is from the Macon Citizen, whose chief editor is Mr. Shropshire, late local editor of the Telegraph. The fact that he has been on political duty but a day or two, will account for the very grave mistake as to our position, which has been one of careful and thorough abstinence from participation in the agitation of the "New Departure" issue.

We are glad to see that the "Citizen" takes our own position. It thinks that the Southern discussion of this issue is entirely out of place, productive of discord among ourselves, and calculated to cripple our Northern friends, and aid their Radical opponents.

We know that the new movement has been both favored and opposed by able, honest patriotic and conscientious Democrats, whom we esteem and trust, and who are acting from a sincere conviction that the best interests of the country are subserved by the course they advocate. We have, therefore, deprecated the aspersions cast on both sides as unjust.

The movement originated North, and in some shape was a necessity. We thought the South should not meddle with it. Even the most careless observer of Northern sentiment could not fail to see that until war-issues were buried, there could be no chance for the Democracy on constitutional issues. As the war party, the Radicals have the supremacy on all war-issues.

Could the South have sincerely and unanimously endorsed the new movement, it would have helped the Northern Democracy materially. But this was not possible, as the new movement was then construed. The next best thing in view of the divisions of Southern sentiment was Southern silence about it, leaving the North to discuss it in their local contests, and to mould it into such form as would secure its purpose of disentangling war-issues from the great question of Constitutionalism against Centralism, and still leave a common ground of congenial Democratic unity.

The Southern advocacy of the new departure could be but partial, and, therefore had better not have been attempted, the result being the evoking of an opposition which however deserved, would be certain of misconstruction and of use against the constitutional cause and its friends North, not only in their local contests there now, but in the great national campaign of 1872. Therefore, Southern silence at this juncture was the programme, leaving the Northern Democrats to work their new movement into unexceptionable shape, which they could do better without our interfe ence than with it. Then, in 1872, after the local contests are over, and the dust of those skirmishes are settled, when the Northern Democrats have aggregated their many ideas of the new departure and evolved a clearly-defined and generally accepted programme, reconciling the seemingly diverse views, testing practically their force, and combining them into unity, then we say, in the national battle at hand, the Southern Democrats could have acted on that defined and accepted programme for the success of the party.

But as it is, the premature agitation of the measure has, we fear, furnished material that will be tellingly used in 1872 against us, garbled and misconstrued by the Radicals. While the division in our party would be most injurious.

That the Northern Democrats would arrive at a satisfactory settlement of the new movement to bury war issues, on which the South could enthusiastically stand, we have not doubted, and they could do this better without than with our aid.

Hence have we urged Southern silence and party harmony. We have advocated and shall urge no fatal concessions of principle, but in all matters of mere Southern policy we shall press that the party be governed by good sense and a wise consideration of results.

We are glad to see the discussion of the New Departure is quieting down. Let us hear no more of it on either side. But let us unite and go to fighting our powerful enemy.

Why!

We have called attention to the fact that the action of the New York Democracy pleases both the departurists and their opponents. Both are pleased. Both claim it as an endorsement of their programme, and of course they can unite upon it.

This may seem strange and inconsistent, but it is not. It shows what we have all along believed, that they did not understand each other, and, as we have claimed, that there has been great though unintentional misrepresentation.

That unqualified "New Departure" paper, the Louisville Courier-Journal thus speaks:

"The 'New Departure,' so-called (mind that 'so-called'), is the Democratic platform in every one of the States where a contest is going on. It has been greatly misunderstood; but, as advocated by us long before the idea was formulated by Valladdigham and misnamed by the Radicals for shrewd, campaign purposes of their own, it means the acceptance of the status of the negro question. This is all. It does not mean an abandonment of any cardinal or constitutional principle put forward by Jefferson and adhered to as an axiom of faith by Democrats."

We are willing to take the Departurist at his own estimate, and we have from our own observation of Northern sentiment known that the Northern Democrats meant by the Departure only the settlement of the negro question as a war-issue.

The anti-departurist has claimed that the Departure went farther, and abandoned State rights. The disentanglement of the two questions by a specific mention of a recognition of the status of the negro, seems to have satisfied both. The Departurist thereby shows that he don't yield to Centralism; the anti-departurist claims that the constitutional issue is intact.

The Courier-Journal winds up an article thus, alluding to the anti-departurists:

"Now if they are satisfied with the action of New York, so are we, and let us compromise on that as our platform. Come, cheer up and be lively. What do you all say to peace on the New York basis?"

Hon. W. D. Anderson, of Cobb.

Editors Constitution: The time for the meeting of the Legislature is approaching. The public mind looks with much interest to its action. That it will be characterized by moderation and prudence none seem to doubt. Much will depend upon a wise organization. The gentleman whose name heads this article was a member of the last House of Representatives; and with unenviable associations, he won by his wisdom, moderation and integrity, an enviable position in the esteem and confidence of Georgians. I know of no member of the present House who possesses equal qualifications with him for the Speakership. I therefore take the liberty of suggesting that his election to that position would meet the unqualified approbation of the people of North Georgia. The elements of experience, ability, integrity, and patriotism are all combined in him. And the opinion generally prevails that these rare virtues are now desirable in official position. A CITIZEN.

The Political Situation—Some Plain Talk About It.

Editors Constitution: Much is said, and perhaps more written, upon the "political situation." On one side it is maintained that the 14th and 15th constitutional amendments shall, in the administration of all departments of the governments, be ignored and treated as nullities. On the other it is maintained that these amendments shall be treated as parts of the Constitution, and obeyed accordingly. This latter position does not involve, as is supposed, the finality of these amendments, and that they are to remain forever as parts of the Constitution. Any portion of the Constitution, whether new or old, is open to amendments whenever the real and solemn sense of the nation so wills it. Therefore the idea that that these amendments, because now submitted to, must be perpetuated, is plainly erroneous. No true friend of the Constitution, and of the liberty it was designed to secure, will favor their perpetuity. The issue, then, is between resistance to their execution on the one hand, and a toleration of them as de facto parts of the Constitution on the other. Upon this statement of the issue the question arises. Which is the wiser course of the two—for wisdom is the word which in this perilous time embraces every public duty? The question cannot be intelligibly answered without first instituting an inquiry into the relation which we of the reconstructed States sustain to the central government. The question on both sides is argued from the standpoint of the equality of the citizen and the sovereignty of the State, whereas both have been practically lost by a sanguinary war of four years' duration. It is said, and rightfully, too, that the "arbitrament of arms" cannot destroy private rights, but there is a wide difference between this and their practical loss, as a physical result. It would be an insult to the commonest intelligence to argue that we have had no right sacrificed by the war. We have only to open our eyes to be convinced of this; and the blind man can feel it as keenly as the brightest orbs can see it. We are to-day, however disagreeable the fact be, a conquered people of conquered provinces. There are no freemen among us in the spirit of the government our fathers made; and our once glorious States now lie under the heel of the Congress. All our liberties were based upon the sovereignty of the States—a phrase which Carl Schurz changes to "local self-government." What has become of the right of "local self-government." It has been swept away in the manufacture by Congress of a new people, made up of the all pervading and oft predominating negro, who, before clothed with this right by Congressional legislation, was our slave. He was given this right ostensibly for his protection, but really that he might be used as instruments of torture by the conqueror, or for our humiliation or subjection. He is eligible to the highest office, and we find him clothed with judicial powers, and sitting in our State and National Councils. These, though more indicative of our conquered condition, are small evils compared with his presence in the jury box and on the city police. Was ever there more palpable symbols of subjugation, and was ever a people so degraded in their fall? The best and wisest of our land—our true and trusted patriots—men without reproach in their public lives, and stainless in their private honor, are denied the privileges granted to a pardoned felon, and the most degraded negro; and our noble and refined women are daily, in all their pleasures or avocations of life, liable to insult and injury by the state of society which followed the dictation of our masters. New England, through her carpet-bag emissaries and their negro allies, fixes upon such States as Virginia and South Carolina, her own institutions to the the exclusion of theirs. The taxing power of all the reconstructed States have been exercised by these pauper non-tax-payers. Under their administration they have stolen every cent in every treasury, and have levied considerable contribution not only upon the living but upon those yet to be born. They even claim a capture of our churches and our consciences. Our property has been confiscated, and in doing so the innocent and the helpless have shared the same fate and received no mercy. By an election law enacted by the Congress, the Executive elections of the States can be carried at the point of the bayonet, and by a Ku-Klux law, all citizens "formidable to tyrants" can adhibitum be shut up in prision. Such being our condition, of what importance is it to us at the present, if these are usurpations? Can our denouncing them as such, better our condition? We have no tribunal, no audience before whom to carry our complaints. What benefit can we derive, being captives, from an argument with our keeper? He has us in a place of safety, and the key in his pocket. It is in vain we talk to him of the illegality of our confinement. He may reply, I believe you are right, but nevertheless "you are my prisoner." There is but one remedy in such a case, and that is to break out or pay out. If a friend out side were to provide the means of escape, should it be rejected, because it would be a violation of some principle? Then, we repeat the issue prescribed is argued from the wrong stand point, and so long as it is so argued we cannot expect to come to a correct conclusion. It may be responded, we have a tribunal before whom to go in the conservative elements of the whole nation, and these are represented by the Democratic organization. This portion requires a candid response. The Democratic party as now organized is not that party of history. The issues which marked it have been swallowed up, by the war and its results. The kernel of that organization opposed the war. It was condemned then and now by the ruling power of the nation as traitors in league with rebels. If it comes into power, when it does it is said, their allies will be the leaders in the rebellion. There will be a general amnesty, which will bring back into power the most influential and most dangerous rebel leaders, all the results of the war costing so much in blood and treasure will be lost. We know the Northern masses supported the war—approved the war—sanctioned the usurpations which followed the war, and will the power that did these things ever "go back on" all they have done, while political issues are as they are? They have had the fairest opportunities for modifying their position, but remain inexorable. The Democratic party gathered all its strength in the campaign of 1868, and could accomplish nothing. The campaign of 1872 is fairly inaugurated now, and with the results this year in Connecticut, Maine, and California, where is there a ray of hope? Before the Northern people the Democratic party is demoralized because of its war record. The Southern people have their confidence shaken because of the "New Departure." We have said it is not the party it once was. Since the war it is a sort of a close corporation for the benefit of certain politician-capitalists. Grant comprehended this when he made a bid for them, of gold for their bonds. The value of their securities and the one hand and the restoration of the Constitution on the other, and these corporators would hang like a mill stone about the neck of the party and sink it. It was they who invented the candidacy of Chase, and ended by the substitution of Seymour, for the safety of their bonds. The prospect of our escape by the triumph of the Democratic nominations are too gloomy to place our trust in it. We must inaugurate a different tactics. Let us stand upon all our rights and hold ourselves aloof from all national party alliances. In a Presidential election we can so throw our strength as to accomplish our object. Let the Democrats make their platforms and if it be better for us than that of the other party—as it must—give them our united support. If defeated they cannot say we did it, by our action, the convention, or during the canvass. The first step towards a reformation is a change in the national administration. This must be accomplished or nothing can be done. When the government is in the hands of men who respect the Constitution, they can so administer it as to show the people the evils under which the country suffers. While we only feel them now, in the progress of a very short time, the Northern people will feel them too. This Republican government cannot legislate for conquered subjects without increasing the number of the subjects. The evils will grow and spread. If you put leaven in dough, it will leaven the whole lump. You cannot stick a match to a keg of powder and have only one half of it explode. The people of the north will realize this sooner or later. They will not begin to realize it until they cease to fear conquered rebels and cannot see even the ghost of a nigger. How soon they shall begin to see will depend upon us. If we make, through our leading and loved statesmen, open war upon their cherished legislation, we postpone the day of the sober second thought.

Fortunately, they have graciously left some power in our hands. All of our capable men are not ineligible under these fraudulent constitutional amendments. Let us everywhere elect the best men to Congress. When they get there, let them combine, and throw their votes so as to do us the greatest possible good. The South will soon get in demand, and as soon as in demand her rights will be respected and her wrongs remedied. By this course we sacrifice no principle—we subscribe to neither of the fraudulent amendments. As for ourself, we have just as much respect for the 14th and 15th amendments as we have for the 13th. The latter was passed at the point of Executive and the others at the point of Congressional bayonets.

By the power given to Congress in each of these amendments, "to enforce them by appropriate legislation," every constitutional barrier is broken down, if the government is administered by the Radical party. The Election and Ku-Klux bills illustrate this. Centralism and Empire are complete unless there are opposing forces.

They can be opposed only by persons devoted to liberty, who can take their seats and speak and vote. If we do not elect such, we capriciously yield all the power we have left, and are indeed a conquered people without hope except in the ultima ratio.

The entire administration of the National government is usurpation. What they pretend to fear the rebels would do they themselves have done. They have in their party supremacy seized upon the reins of government, and have overthrown the Constitution. They have achieved a successful revolution of the government in ostensibly defending it. No party who had fought their way to power though blood over the bodies of the Constitution's defenders, could more completely have subverted it. From point to point they go peacefully and skillfully until we shall glide into empire without knowing it. Then nothing is to do but to declare it. The re-election of Grant is probable. We fear certain. There is another reign of four years, which will be employed in laying the foundation for combination of his power. At the expiration of the next term, the experiment of a third term will be tried. If that is successful, then there will be a fourth. By that time everything will be complete, and the declaration of the empire will be only a question of taste or propriety.

Grant is underrated by many. He has no high intellectual development, but he has in him the elements out of which absolute rulers are made. He is firm, courageous, reticent, unscrupulous, and in power. These qualities brought to bear for the accomplishment of any single purpose augur success. We have seen how, when the occasion requires, he can banish his friend Sumner, or take to his bosom, his enemy, Butler. The preservation of our Government, in at least its most natural features, is worthy the effort of every man. With its inevitable degeneracy, it will then be the best in the world. The outlook is indeed gloomy, but it is our duty to struggle in its behalf, until there is nothing left but black despair. The greater part of this duty must devolve upon the Southern States, men in the inculcation of its true principles. When the Northern men feel the power of usurpation, as they soon will, they will join with us. They must themselves feel the hand of the oppressor before they will be aroused to the sense of their danger. Then we fear it may be too late. They have now no very lively appreciation of liberty. It is the rebels only who feel the oppression, and they deserve it. They are devoted to their material interests and these may flourish under Grant. The value of government securities and the price of wheat and labor are about as far as they look. The old Democratic statesmen and editors who shouted the alarm long ago, are yet doing their duty, but they cannot show any money in it, and go unheeded. A few Republican statesmen like Schurz and Brown and Carpenter, and with more sagacity and patriotism than others, see the danger and are trying to avert it, but such as Morton and Beast Butler have alike the ear of the designing President and the stupid masses. Nothing can stay the rapid march to empire, and bring back the Government to its true principles, but a new party, composed of all the conservative elements of the nation, and based upon the vital, living issues of the times. Where and how will such a movement begin. Perhaps never. A DEMOCRAT SINCE 1840.

REMOVAL.—Messrs. Kendrick & Son will soon remove their carpet store to James' Bank Block, on Whitehall street.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—The bankrupt case of George Johnson was concluded yesterday. Nothing else of moment done.

BEGUN AT LAST.—The work of flooring the Union Passenger Depot has been commenced at last. It is never too late to do good.

THOMPSON'S RESTAURANT.—Our wholesouled and popular friend, R. G. Thompson, will open his restaurant in James Bank Block on Monday next.

CONSTITUTION FAIR BULLETIN.—Advertisements are coming in rapidly. To insure insertion they must be sent in at once. Delays are dangerous.

FOR SALE OR LEASE.—T. G. Rawlins offers to sell or lease his farm two miles from the city containing 200 acres. It is suitable for a dairy, garden or nursery.

THIRD WARD DEMOCRATIC CLUB.—The Third Ward Democratic Club last night adjourned without transacting any important business, to meet on to-night week.

FOURTH WARD.—The Executive Committee of the Fourth Ward Democratic Club are requested to meet at the office of Wallace & Fowler this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

ANOTHER NEW PROJECT.—A printer named S. B. Bissell proposes to commence the publication, on the 16th of a small sheet to be called the Theatrical Programme. It is to be circulated free.

PREPARE FOR THE COLD SNAP.—The "cold snap" yesterday should remind our citizens to prepare for it, and in this connection we would remark that L. B Langford has a fine supply of grates, stoves, piping, etc., and sells them at reasonable figures.

LADIES, READ THIS CAREFULLY.—All the ladies belonging to the First Methodist Church, on Peachtree street, are urgently requested to meet at James' new Hall, on Whitehall street, this evening at 4 o'clock to transact important business concerning Dorcas Fairs to be held next week.

NOVEL TOPIC.—The weather yesterday was chilly and damp at one time; and a considerable blow at another. Overcoats and fires were comfortable. The day had a variety—heavy showers, heavy gusts of wind, big streaks of cold, and a gorgeous sunset.

SOCIAL CLUB MEETING.—THE CONSERVATION has the pleasure of chronicling another meeting of the old Reading Club, and a most delightful one; this time at the residence of Dr. Bozeman, on McDonough street. The only serious objection to these club meetings appears to be that they are not frequent enough.

DR. SID, FROM HOLLAND.—Despite of the character of the weather last night, a fair audience greeted Dr. Sid, from Holland, at DeGives. His feats in legerdemain and magic were wonderful and elicited repeated "applause." His "Arkansas Traveler" was superb, and his performances on the banjo exquisitely beautiful. He deserves the most enlarged success.

YOUNG MEN'S LIBRARY.—The rooms of the Young Men's Library have been made to look as bright as new by Mr. Pearce, the Librarian, is discharging his duties faithfully and with great energy. Miller Pearce, a bright and intelligent young fellow, assists.

Mechanics and laboring men cannot leave their places of business in the day time, and this plan will give every man a chance to deposit his ballot.

DEMOCRAT.

GIVE THE DEVIL HIS CREDIT.—Our esteemed contemporary, the Athens Watchman copies our statement of the trial of Rev. M. D. Wood, and credits it to the Sun. At the bottom of it, our contemporary says: "The motion for a new trial was refused, and the prisoner sentenced, etc." The motion for a new trial was not refused, and no papers when argued. It is true that the Sun made such a statement, but there was no foundation for it. The motion has yet to be argued.

PERSONAL.—Hon. W. A. McDougald, President of the North and South Railroad, passed through here last night for Rome.

Dr. J. N. Simmons, after a protracted absence, has returned.

Roland B. Hall, of Brunswick, is in the city.

W. H. Turner and A. C. Ladd have returned.

Mrs. Brown—Spoken like a true woman. Sensible to the last.

DIRECT IMPORTATION OF CUTLERY AND EARTHENWARE.—It would suprise those who have not looked in at McBride & Co.'s to know what immense stocks of cutlery pass through the hands of this house. Everything, from the cheapest, old-fashioned knife of "Samuel Barlow" to the finest "India steel" blades made by Rogers & Sons, Westenholm, Frederick Hurd, and other celebrated manufacturers.

McBride & Co. have secured the services of that active, wide-awake and popular young man, Edd Bradfield. Mr. Bradfield has just returned from South Alabama, and leaves this morning for a trip in eastern and southern Georgia. We commend him and his house to our friends as in every way worthy of their patronage.

HOME INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK.—General John C. Whitner, General Agent of this company for Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina, has, we learn, authority to a sure all agents in his district that this company is fully prepared to meet promptly all its Chicago liabilities without the slightest detriment to its policy holders.

THE TREMENDIOUS RUSH at M. & J. Hirsch's, 41 Whitehall street, is caused from the fact that they sell Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods at such astonishing low prices that every body who is in want of a suit is rushing to the Oak Hall Clothing House, No. 41 Whitehall street, to get fitted out, before all the great bargains are gone. Style and quality of goods cannot be surpassed by any house this side of New York. Call and convince yourself of the fact.

LOVING, BUT UNLOVED.

One from his palace home
He came to my cottage door;
Few were his looks and words,
But they linger for evermore,
The smile of his sad blue eyes
Was tender as smile could be;
Yet I was nothing to him,
Though he was the world to me!

Fair was the bride he won,
Yet her heart was never his own;
My beauty he had and he'd
But bid spirit flee ever alone.
Friends have been his slave,
With a kiss for my life long fee;
But I was nothing to him,
While he was the world to me!

To-day, in his stately home,
On a flower-strewn bier he lies,
With drooping lids fast closed
O'er the beautiful sad blue eyes.
And among the mourners who mourn
I may rank a mourner be;
For I was nothing to him,
Though he was the world to me!

How will it be with our souls
When they meet in the better land?
What the mortal could never know,
Will the spirit yet understand?
Or, in some celestial room
Must the sorrow repeated be,
And I be nothing to him,
While he dines heaven for me?

Aerial Navigation.

The navigation of the air by means of machinery has long attracted the attention of scientific men, and many have been the inventions revealed to the wondering world with this object in view, though so far none have appeared to demonstrate even the probability of practical success. Science and skill are by no means daunted, however, and it cannot be considered without the range of reason that mankind will in some day reap the reward of patient and untiring energy in this direction. The latest efforts at demonstrating successfully aerial navigation have been made in close proximity to this city, and the inventor, who soon intends to introduce his plans to the public, considers with absolute certainty his work will be a success. The plans have been submitted to scientific men here and elsewhere, and have certainly awakened an interest which is a tribute to the demonstrator may regard as valuable. It is understood that movements are on foot to organize a company to give practical reality to the theory which has been consummated.—Patriot.

Grant's Republicans on the City Pay-Roll.

One of the books in the Finance Department is bound in green. In this book are recorded the names of all the Republicans who hold or hold place under Tammany. The names of their patrons and the special services performed by the sinecurists are also given. One Republican has been a pensioner on the county for the last four years. He received $2,000 per annum, and was regular in his calls for payment. A friend informed him yesterday that all the names on the Controller's books would be published, and congratulated him on holding a very lucrative position.

"Yes, my," said the Grant Republican, "I get only $2,000 a year."

"Oh, tell that to the marines," replied his friend, "you are credited on the books with $6,000 a year."

"Then, by——," replied the Grant man, "the Ring thieves have robbed me of 4,000 a year."—New York Sun.

A YOUNG MAN KISSES THE WRONG GIRL.—A young gentleman of this city, says the Norfolk Journal, made a ridiculous and rather embarrassing mistake yesterday evening on the arrival of the Seaboard and Roanoke train at Portsmouth.

Expecting the arrival of his grandmother and a young lady cousin on the train, he went to Portsmouth to meet them. On the arrival of the train he hastened to the ladies' coach, and seeing his grandmother and a young lady whom he supposed to be his cousin, occupying the same seat, he hurried up to them, and saluted the young lady with a hearty kiss "right in the mouth," as he expressed it. Immediately a gentleman sitting in the rear of the young lady arose and demanded in irate tones what he meant by this insult. Overwhelmed with confusion, the young gentleman (who is very bashfully murmured out an apology and explanation. The wrath of the gentleman was appeased by the explanation, and he graciously accepted the apology. The young lady—her face covered with blushes—remarked, "You must look better next time."

Who wouldn't like to make such a mistake.

☞ A distinguished ex-Governor of Ohio, famous for story-telling, relates that, on one occasion, while addressing a temperance meeting at Georgetown, District of Columbia, and depicting the misery caused by indulging too frequently in the flowing bowl, his attention was attracted by the sobs of a disconsolate and seedy-looking individual in the rear part of the room. On going to the person and interrogating him, he was told the usual tale of woe; among other sad incidents, that, during his career of vice, he had buried three wives. The Governor, having buried a few wives of his own, sympathized deeply with the inebriate, and consoled him as much as was in his power. Said he: "The Lord has indeed afflicted you." The mourner sobbingly replied: "Yes, yes he has;" and pausing a moment and wiping his nose, he continued: "But I don't think the Lord got much ahead of me, for, as fast as he took one away, I took another."

THE DYING NEVER WEEP.—It is a striking fact that the dying never weep. The sobbing, the heart-breaking agony of the circle of friends around the death-bed call forth no responsive tears from the dying. Is it because he is insensible and still in the chill of dissolution? That cannot be, for he asks for his father's hand; as if to gain strength in the mortal struggle, and leans on the breast of his mother, sister or brother, in still conscious affection. Just before expiring, he calls the loved ones, and with quivering lips says, "Kiss me!" showing that the love he has ever borne in his heart is still fresh and warm. It must be because the dying have reached too deep for earthly sorrows, too transcendent for weeping. They are face to face with higher and holier things with the Father in Heaven and his angels. There is no weeping in that blessed abode to which he is hastening.

Theatrical Notes.

The "Man O'Airlie" is the attraction at the Arch Street Theatre, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florence are at the Grand Opera House, New York, in a new play, "Eileen Oge."

The receipts of Pike's Opera House, Cincinnati, during Mr. Jefferson's two weeks engagement, was a little over $20,000.

Miss Lydia Thompson has put "Lurline" upon the boards of the Boston Theatre, but it has not proven as much of a card as "Blue Beard."

Nilsson will give twelve entertainments in Boston—ten nights and two matinees. Tickets are forty dollars for the season, or five dollars for single seats.

WHAT IS HOME?—"Home," says Robertson in his sermons, "is the one place where hearts are sure of each other. It is the place of confidence. It is the place where we tear off that mask of guarded and suspicious coldness which the world forces on us to wear in self-defense, and where we pour out the unreserved communications of full and confiding hearts. It is the spot where expressions of tenderness gush out without any dread of ridicule. Let a man travel where he will, home is the place to which 'his heart untraveled fondly turns.' He is to divide all pain. A happy home is the single spot of rest which a man has upon this earth for the cultivation of his noblest sensibilities."

A CIVIL RIGHTS CASE.—PITTSBURG.—The Georgia slave troupe of minstrels, composed of the pure material, are vexed to the core over the refusal of the hotel keepers in this city to provide them with accommodations. At one hotel where the Radicals meet and where their eloquence is constantly being poured forth from the balcony, the negro band were not allowed to cross the threshold. The members of the organization assert that nowhere in their travels have they been treated so meanly as here by the hotel men, and in the face of this being the banner county of radicalism of the country.—Chicago Times.

☞ The Richmond correspondent of the Norfolk Virginian says a new daily paper, with large capital, is to be started in Richmond in April. It will be called the Observer, and will aspire to be the Democratic organ in the State.

☞ Ohio must by very debatable ground in the estimation of Grant and his Cabinet, for the whole travelling manageric of the Administration has been, or is about to be, there.—Age.

FIRST PREMIUM

Awarded at Cotton States Fair, Augusta,

Thomasville Fair, and all Southern Fairs where Exhibited, 1870!

THE SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY,

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR,

CONSTITUTED by the homes of the people, received the Great Award of the Highest Sales, and have left all rivals far behind them, for they sold in 1870, One Hundred and Twenty-seven Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirty-three Machines.

The Singer Manufacturing Company sold over the Florence Sewing Machine Company	110,173 Machines.
Sold over the Wilcox & Gibbs' Sewing Machine Company	98,943 "
Sold over the Weed Sewing Machine Company	92,831 "
Sold over the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company	70,431 "
Sold over the Howe Maching Company	53,677 "
Sold over the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company	44,605 "

It is the most simple and easily regulated Machine now in use.

The shuttle gives an even tension from the full to the empty bobbin.

Makes the most durable, elastic and smooth stitch. Stitching the finest muslin without drawing it into the feed, and from that to heavy cloth or leather without changing the tension, making it capable of a greater range than any other machine made.

We use the straight needle, and it will do more and finer work than the curved needles.

The work moves from you instead of sideways, which is much easier to manage.

For speed and ease of operation it is unequaled.

Our machinery is all protected from dust.

Our ruffler, tucker, gatherer, quilter, trimmer, fringer, binder, hemmer, braider, feller and embroidery attachment are simple and easily used.

We have the best of silks of our own manufacture at wholesale and retail, of all colors and numbers.

We will place the Singer in your family for a trial with any machine you may wish to try with it.

The sales of our New Family Sewing Machine is steadily increasing, showing its popularity.

The new No. 1 Machine for Tailors and Bootmakers is the best in the market.

CHEROKEE PILLS NO. 2.

For the Removal of Obstructions and the Insurance of Regularity in the Recurrence of Monthly Periods.

THESE PILLS are an unfailing Female Regulator, intended for special cases; those obstinate ones where milder and cheaper medicines fail.

They are composed of the most active and powerful principles of plants, roots and berries, so highly concentrated that each pill contains more medical strength than a whole box or bottle of ordinary doller medicine in the market. Although powerful, yet so mild and pleasant in their operation, that the most feeble can take them with perfect safety.

☞ They may be safely used at any age, and at any period, except during the First Three Months, during which the unfailing nature of their effects would infallibly prevent pregnancy.

☞ All letters seeking information or advice will be promptly, freely and discreetly answered.

☞ Each box contains about 100 pills, and wrapped in white paper printed in deep red letters, with full and explicit directions enclosed.

☞ Sent by mail, free of postage, on receipt of price, $5, by Pierz.

☞ The Cherokee Pills No. 2 are sold by all enterprising Druggists in the civilized world. Some unprincipled dealers, however, try to sell worthless compounds in place of this; those which they can purchase at a cheap price and make more money. As you value your health do not be deceived by such unprincipled Druggists, ask for these $5 pills, and take no other. If the Druggist will not buy them for you, size over the money in a letter and we will send them to you by mail, free of postage, securely sealed from observation.

Ladies or Gentlemen can address us in perfect confidence, stating fully and plainly their diseases and symptoms. Parties in need not hesitate because of their inability to visit us, as we have treated patients successfully in all portions of the civilized globe, by correspondence.

Patients addressing us will please state plainly all the symptoms, and write post office, county, State and name of writer, and enclose postage stamp for reply.

☞ We desire to send our thirty-two page pamphlet, entitled "MAN AND WOMAN AS INVALIDS," to every reader of this paper. Address as follows:

A CARD TO OIL BURNERS.

BEING the manufacturers of more than four fifths of the Kerosene Oil used in Atlanta and vicinity, (as well as through the entire South,) we think best to inform our customers that the recent inspection of oil in Atlanta (reported below Government fire test) either do not refer to our brand, or are incorrect, or are fraudulent.

We know our business as manufacturers, and shall stand behind our products at all times. We sell no oil which will not bear rigorous inspection, and hence are not to be alarmed, and we defy any one, and every one, in law or out of law, in business competition or out of it, whether from Georgia or New York, to establish any just claim against our oil.

We shall continue to sell through our agents, Messrs. Carley, Duck & Co., of Atlanta, a better quality of Kerosene, and for lower prices, than any other Refinery in the United States can afford, and the doors of all our warehouses, whether in Louisville, Nashville, Memphis, New Orleans, Mobile, or Atlanta, are always open to Inspectors, whether appointed by City, State, or United States, each of which Inspectors we welcome, but all of whom we defy.
